

Theme & Subthemes

This interdisciplinary Conference will explore the cultural, historical, scientific and theoretical contexts of human-nature conflict. Environment is one of the central discourses of present era. Man's drifting away from an Eco-centric to an anthropocentric world, thereby distorting the green culture, has resulted in a global ecological crisis. Cultural and historical representation of nature and landscape has also a huge role to play in this moment of crisis. We cannot deny the scientific enquiry crucial for decoding the disequilibrium in biodiversity.

The conference would initiate a multi-layered academic discussion involving experts in physical sciences, social sciences and humanities. The Conference will provide a platform where wide spectrum of active and experienced researchers in domains ranging from material science to nuclear science - nano-science to particle physics - earth science to biological science, emerging environmental issues analogous to global warming. According to the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, the Earth's mean temperature is predicted to rise by between 1.5 – 4.5 °C for a doubling of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere, which is expected by around 2050. To mention a few, in regard to climate research - CERN - an international organization of Nuclear and Particle Physics, where a project named "CLOUD" was undertaken to explore new dynamics of climatology. The new [CERN] findings point to cosmic rays and the sun—not human activities—as the dominant controller of climate on Earth. Nano-Science is also another all-pervading domain very much relevant for eco-friendly development and technology. This conference would suggest ways in which a pro-environment culture of green initiatives, green alternatives, and green consciousness might be practiced. The conference would also address the complex problems of environmental sustainability and aid in structuring ethical issues crucial for saving the Green Culture. The conference would expect research papers from Humanities, Arts, Social Science and Science disciplines which would challenge the problematic of dualistic paradigm of viewing man and nature as separate.

Some of the possible sub-themes include, though not restricted to:

- Ecocriticism/ Ecofeminism/ Ecomasculinity
- Nature/ Culture dichotomy?
- Representation of Nature in Cultural Texts
- Nature and Religion
- Ecological wisdom in songs and rituals
- Urbanism
- Climate Change & Biodiversity
- Global Health
- Physical Science in context of Environment
- Biological Science
- Earth Science
- Chemical science
- Engineering Science
- Medical Science
- Agriculture and Food Supply
- Resources and Environment
- Environmental Ethics & Green Politics
- Green Federalism in India

- Global Warming
- Environmental policies
- Indigenous Communities and Climate change
- Environmental activism
- Socio-ecological disasters and environmental refugees
- Human wildlife conflict
- Marine peril: Saving the oceans/ rivers
- Environmental Mathematics
- Ecological economics
- Philosophical approaches to Nature

About our College:

Government
General Degree
College,
Tehatta is nestled on the pleasant banks of the Jalangi
River in the district of
Nadia, West
Bengal, India.

The lush green landscape surrounding the college is a treat to one's visual senses. Tehatta, a sub-divisional town, situated near the Betai -Bangladesh border, is a flourishing locality of Nadia District. Jod-Bangla temple of Krishna-rai at Tehatta is one of the surviving terracotta temples in West Bengal that documents its rich cultural past. While visiting Tehatta, one can plan to explore several other places in Nadia district like Mayapur's famous ISKON temple and the seat of Vaishnava cult; the Rajbari of Raja Krishna Chandra at Krishnagar and its mouth-watering sweet dishes like sarpuria; Ghurni, the hub of clay artisans famous for the Clay Dolls; Shantipur famous for its exquisite saris; Bethuadahari, home to a large population of spotted deer; and Plassey, a historical town where the Battle of Plassey happened in 1757 between the last Nawabs of Bengal and the British forces.

Venue

Govt. General Degree College, Tehatta (Affiliated to University of Kalyani), P.O. + P.S.-Tehatta, Dist.-Nadia, Pin-741160, Web Page of the College-<http://tehattagovtcollege.ac.in/>.

How to reach our college

The nearest Railway Station is Krishnagar which is well connected with other parts of West Bengal. Several local and express trains run between Krishnagar and Sealdah in the Sealdah-Lalgola route. From Krishnagar one can take buses directed towards either Karimpur or Palashipara. Tehatta is about 41 Km from Krishnagar and this is a smooth ride of almost one hour by bus. Another nearby railway station is Plassey, especially if one comes from Berhampore/ Lalgola side. From Plassey, there are a number of buses available for Tehatta and these buses ply on Palashipara-Shyamnagar route.

Abstract Submission

Abstracts of 250-300 words in MS word format are invited on the above-mentioned sub-themes or any topics relevant to the theme of the conference. Abstract should be submitted on or before 8 March, -2019 to greencultureconference2019@gmail.com. Abstract can be written either in English or in Bengali. Acceptance will be conveyed by 10th March, 2019. The organizing committee will publish a conference proceeding (full paper) in ISBN/ peer reviewed ISSN Journal and this will also be uploaded at the University Website to follow the UGC guideline (regarding the promotion of the teachers of the universities and colleges). The paper presenters will be asked to submit full paper in prescribed format in due course. Besides oral and poster presentation we would encourage submissions that consider other forms of expression like performances and art works. Registration details will be shared with the acceptance email.

Registration Fees

- ❖ University/ College Faculty: Rs. 700/-
- ❖ Research Scholar: Rs.500/-
- ❖ Student: Rs.50/- (Note: We will be able to allow 100 student participants only and the student registration will be done on a first-come-first-served basis.)

Registration Details

All participants are requested to remit the registration fees latest by 12th March, 2019. Paper presenters should remit the fees by electronic transfer to Tehatta Govt. College, A/c No: 35125472826, State Bank of India, IFS code SBIN0003153. Please preserve the Transaction Id for future references. Report on the

Two-Day National Conference on “Contemporary Issues on Natural and Anthropogenic Effect in Environmental Crisis” (NCCINAECC-2019)

Organized by

Government General Degree College, Tehatta

NADIA, West Bengal, 74116

Date: 15th & 16th March, 2019

Venue: Lecture Theatre, Govt. General Degree College, Tehatta, Nadia, West Bengal

Overview:

Government General Degree College, Tehatta, successfully organized a two-day National Conference titled “Contemporary Issues on Natural and Anthropogenic Effect in Environmental Crisis” (NCCINAECC-2019). This interdisciplinary conference aimed to explore the multifaceted contexts of human-nature conflicts, integrating perspectives from physical sciences, social sciences, and humanities. The conference provided a platform for academic discourse on environmental challenges and solutions, emphasizing the importance of fostering a pro-environment culture through green initiatives and consciousness.

Key Themes:

The conference covered a broad range of topics under several sub-themes, including:

- Ecocriticism, Ecofeminism, and Eco-masculinity
- Nature/Culture Dichotomy
- Representation of Nature in Cultural Texts
- Nature and Religion

Keynote and Plenary Lectures:

- Keynote Lecture: Prof. Sugata Hazra, Director of the School of Oceanography, Jadavpur University, delivered the keynote lecture.
- Plenary Lectures:
 - Sudhir Chakravarty presented the first plenary lecture.
 - Prof. Kalyan Kr. Chattopadhyay from the Department of Physics, Jadavpur University, discussed “Nanotechnology for Environmental Remediation.”
 - Prof. Parthasarathi Ghosh from the Geological Studies Unit, Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata, spoke on “Dynamics of Kosi River—Notions and Facts.”
 - Dr. Sankar Kumar Nath, Consultant Oncologist, discussed “Food, Environment, and Cancer Prevention.”

Second Day Highlights:

- Prof. Niladri R. Chatterjee from the Department of English, University of Kalyani, presented on “Smoking, Toxic Masculinity, and the Body.”
- Prof. Sumit Mukherjee from the Department of Political Science, University of Kalyani, delivered a lecture on “Tagore’s Thought on Environment: A Multidimensional Perspective.”
- Parallel Sessions:
 - The conference featured multiple parallel sessions for oral and poster presentations. More than 50 faculty members and research scholars from various institutions across and beyond the state presented their research on different aspects of environmental crisis. The student community of GGDC, Tehatta, also actively participated in the event.
